

Group Sales Weather Policy

As the famous saying goes.... The show must go on!

At Toby's Dinner Theatre we do our best to adhere to that motto. It is important to note that shows are almost never cancelled in advance due to forecasted weather conditions, so your group should always plan to arrive on time. If guests leave of their own accord or choose not to attend and the show has not been cancelled, no refunds or exchanges will be given.

If inclement weather is forecasted and you wish to reschedule your group reservation to avoid the approaching weather, we require you contact the group sales office at least 48 hours prior to your performance date. Please be aware that your entire group must be rescheduled for a new performance together.

If Toby's Dinner Theatre should cancel a performance you will be notified by phone, so please be sure to also give a cell phone number to group sales for your reservation in case of emergencies. In the event of a cancellation by Toby's Dinner Theatre you will have the option of being refunded or rescheduled to another date. Please note that depending on availability, we may not be able to reschedule you for the same show you were originally reserved for but please know we will try our best.

Thank You,

Toby's Dinner Theatre
